

SENIOR HURRICANE SAFETY GUIDE

Stay Prepared, Stay Protected
This Season

Hurricane season in Florida brings real risks—from outages to supply shortages and storm damage. At Providence Living at Hunter's Creek, we take proactive steps to ensure residents are safe, supported, and cared for—before, during, and after the storm.

FOOD & WATER RESERVES: STOCK UP BEFORE THE STORM.

- Keep at least 7 days of non-perishable food and bottled water
- Plan meals that don't require cooking
- Store paper goods and utensils

Our community maintains a full emergency supply of food, water, and dining essentials. Residents enjoy chef-crafted meals and snacks delivered safely to their rooms—even during severe weather.

POWER & LIGHTING PROTOCOL: EXPECT OUTAGES—PLAN AHEAD.

- Charge phones and backup batteries
- Keep flashlights and extra batteries on hand
- Unplug electronics during the storm

Our community is equipped with backup generators and emergency lighting throughout the building. Residents stay secure, connected, and comfortable, no matter the conditions outside.

MEDICATION & HEALTH ESSENTIALS: DON'T WAIT TO REFILL PRESCRIPTIONS.

- Ensure a 7-day supply of medications
- Keep a list of prescriptions and dosages
- Store medications in a waterproof container

Our care team manages medications and personalized health needs for every resident. Rain or shine, we coordinate with pharmacies and ensure continuity of care.

DAMAGE PREVENTION AT HOME: SECURE YOUR SPACE BEFORE THE STORM.

- Bring in outdoor furniture and loose items
- Check windows and doors for secure seals
- Protect important documents in waterproof storage

Our team prepares the entire community in advance of every storm. From securing outdoor areas to inspecting infrastructure, we handle the details so residents don't have to.

BUILT TO WEATHER THE STORM

Hurricane season doesn't have to mean uncertainty. With trusted support and thoughtful planning, peace of mind is possible. Let Providence Living at Hunter's Creek be your partner in safety, comfort, and care.
